This child waiting alone at the bus stop is:

an open invitation for abuse, violence or worse by pedophiles, bullies, gangs or other predators, by both adults and older children.

Parents:

Do not put your children in harm's way. You are responsible for their safety and security, not only when they go to and from the bus stop, but also while they wait for the bus. Go with and protect them.

Because it's the right thing to do.
